Antimicrobial Features

Antimicrobial describes something that can resist and prevent the growth of microbes including bacteria, fungi and mould. Antimicrobial protection significantly reduces the levels of microbes on a protected surface by up to 99.99%. The in-built antimicrobial protection means the bacteria cannot survive. Once added to a product the antimicrobial technology starts to work immediately, tests have shown that up to 80% of microbial contamination will be killed within just 15 minutes and over 99% in 2 hours.
